ABOUT ME

Hey there! I'm Luis, a second-year student passionate about Cloud Development. From a young age, I've been fascinated by Computer Science, which has fueled my curiosity and drive to learn more.
As a student, I strive to combine my academic pursuits with real-world experiences. These experiences are important to sharp my skills but also instill in me a sense of teamwork and leadership.
I believe in the power of education to create a positive change, and I'm excited about contributing my skills and knowledge to make a difference in society. I'm always seeking new challenges and opportunities to grow, both personally and professionally.
